VERDUGO HILLS INVITED TO ATTEND SUNRISE SERVICES

Our City Comment & discussion by THOMAS D. WATSON

Vote for High School Trustee at High School Tomorrow

HOW many of our voters will go to the voting places tomorrow and vote for a High School trustee?

It is true there is no contest, Albert D. Pearce being the only candidate.

In deference to the candidate, as well as a demonstration of our interest, Glendale should record a fair vote.

The polls will be open from 8 A. M. to 6 P. M. and the voting place in Glendale is at the High School.

Community Chest Plan Gains in Civic Support

THAT the Community Chest plan of giving is spreading is evidenced by the action taken last Monday night at a meeting held in Los Angeles by the Alliance of Social Agencies, which has a membership consisting of 70 societies.

This plan was first presented to our readers in our editorial of February 15th and covered in detail on February 23rd. According to Los Angeles welfare leaders the Community Chest plan of financing charities will probably be tried out in Los Angeles.

Those cities that have adopted the chest would not consider going back to the former haphazard way of financing worthwhile organizations.

* * *

THE city of San Francisco has adopted the Community Chest scheme and in a recent drive they planned on a budget of $2,038,000. After all lists were in they found that they had been over subscribed by nearly $100,000.

Glendale would do well to adopt this plan at once for there is very little doubt of its efficiency from all angles.

We have a great amount of material on this subject which we will be pleased to turn over to any committee of organization members that might be appointed.

This plan merits the approval of all our civic and business clubs and they should show no hesitancy in getting the plan in operation.

* * *

NOW that Eagle Rock has voted in favor of annexing to Los Angeles—the high school district will have to look for another high school trustee.

In about sixty days the annexation will be approved and when this is done Eagle Rock automatically drops out of the Glendale Union High School district and is joined to the Los Angeles city school system.

This procedure will undoubtedly work a hardship on some of the students now attending the Glendale high school, and considerable pressure will be brought to bear on the trustees regarding whether or not Eagle Rock students will be permitted to attend the Glendale high school.

This will have to be gone into very thoroughly, for regardless of the ruling made, some hardship will be encountered.

* * *

IF Eagle Rock students are allowed to attend it means the rest of the district would be put to an expense of approximately $80 per student per school year and also an additional expense for carfare will have to be taken care of, while if ruling is made against them attending it means they will lose the benefit of the close proximity of the Glendale high school.

NORTH BRAND IS GROWING BETTER IN BUSINESS

That North Brand boulevard is every day in every way growing better and better is the united contention of all those who are interested in that section of the city and who declare it will be the best business section of the city within a year's time because of the character of the improvements that are going in.

Besides those already under construction the report is circulating that Miss Myrtle Baldwin has purchased the lot just north of the MacMullin studio building for $30,000 and that she will improve it with a three story building of the best type.

QUIET REVERENCE IS NOTE OF WORSHIP AT GLENDALE UNION MEETING

Paul Carson, Organist Creates Fitting Atmosphere for the Noon-Day Gathering for Pre-Easter Spiritual Work

REV. CALDERWOOD LEADS IN PRAYER

Dr. Frank Dyer Delivered Address Yesterday to Audience That Filled the Theatre at Noon-Day Hour

A deep reverence and quiet, characteristic of those who worship in spirit and in truth, is one of the prevailing impressions one gets from attendance at the noon-day Passion week services, the third of which was held yesterday at the Glendale Theater. Having been trained to play for his preacher-father will probably account for the type of music Mr. Paul Carson has used to create the atmosphere for prayer and song.

Wednesday, following the prelude by Mr. Carson, the congregation sang with fervor a number of familiar and devotional hymns. Mrs. W. Q. Widdows rendered the special song, "Lead Kindly Light," by Newman, an arrangement by J. L. Parks. Rev. Chas. M. Calderwood led in prayer and introduced the preacher of the day, Dr. Frank Dyer of the Wilshire Congregational church, who spoke about twenty minutes. Quoting the acclamation of the people at the triumphal entry of Jesus into Jerusalem, "Hosannah, blessed is He that cometh in the name of Jehovah!" he drew his hearers from the incident to the application that God cannot make his triumphal entry in Glendale without the outpouring of the hearts of the people. While we cannot make satisfactory explanation of God's miraculous revelation and manifestation in Jesus Christ, we can humbly bow in reverence and take recognition of it, he said.

"When Jesus came to Jerusalem, he needed certain things. The strewing of the roadway with garments and with palm branches showed His need for the physical and material tributes of his people; the request for the colt upon which He rode was a symbol of the humble spirit of His triumph; the acclaim of the people was an offering without which He would have been unable to make his coming an event worthy of the importance it was to the thrice Holy City."

Attention was called to the splendid publicity the city of Glendale is giving to its Easter Sunrise services. The speaker expressed a hope that it meant that Glendale was pouring out its adoration to the lowly Nazarene and the world's one hope.

The climax of these noon-day services comes tomorrow when Dr. Hugh K. Walker, one of the best known ministers of the Southland, of the First Presbyterian church of Los Angeles, will speak. It is expected that the theatre will be filled to get this last message and to celebrate the spirit of Good Friday.

Registration 30 days before an election is essential to voting. All those in La Crescenta who have not so registered will be unable to vote for the school bonds.

Those who registered in Montrose for the school bonds within 30 days cannot vote on the bond issue tomorrow.

BUGLERS TO CALL ALL TO SUNRISE SERVICES

Buglers who will sound the call at 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning for the Easter sunrise services will meet Friday night at 7:30 o'clock at the chamber of commerce rooms. Any buglers who will offer their services are invited to come. Plans will be worked out as to what stations will be assigned to the various buglers, who will be placed in various sections of the city.

Legion Bowling Team Has First Night at Recreation Center

Glendale American Legion Bowling Team was organized with a wealth of talent showing up for places on the teams.

The initial play-off at Glendale Recreation Center brought out an unexpected number of good bowlers. Those turning out for the play-off were: Chalmer D. Day, A. G. Wheelon, H. Prussing, E. L. Sullivan, Dr. G. Kaemmerling, Gordon Clayton, Chas. Gibbs, Frank Secrest, J. Crooker, C. M. Salano, R. G. McLean, H. Glazier, Merrill A. Lewis, Newkirk, McArthur and Ferris. All these bowlers exhibited wonderful skill in the art of tumbling over the pins, and when the league opens April 2 Glendale will be ready to go.

Another practice game will be played next Wednesday night. The first league game will be played on the alleys of Glendale Recreation Center on Thursday night, April 5, Burbank being the opposing team on this date.

Henry Prussing is captain of the Glendale team, and with the material to choose from will undoubtedly have the best team in the league of ten American Legion teams.

The ladies have manifested deep interest in this great sport, there being a large number present last night.

W. A. HORN ISSUES HIS STATEMENT

Candidate for City Council Discusses Platform for Election

IS HIS FIRST VENTURE

Thirty Years in Finance and Business Life, He Pledges Best Effort

W. A. Horn, who has entered the race for city councilmen, at the solicitation of his friends, today issued the following statement:

"Having been solicited by friends to seek the position of councilman of our city, I finally decided to allow my name to be put on the ballot.

"This is my first venture into the political arena as an office holder. My thirty and more years of financial and business life have always been very active and strenuous. Have contented myself with taking a keen interest in all local, state and national life, and always using my right of citizenship at the ballot box, but never felt that I had time to take a public office.

"I have lived in our wonderful state of California for seventeen years ,and have traveled through nearly all of its towns and counties, and watched its phenomenal growth; therefore, I feel that I realize somewhat the problems which come with this rapid increase of population, and the great service and sacrifice men whom we have elected to public office have given and must give to solve them.

"I feel that there are now before the citizens of Glendale tremendous problems, and paramount amongst them are these two, namely—the sewer question and the tax rate, and if we are to continue our growth into a large and progressive city these two must be solved at once.

"I therefore pledge my best effort in the solution of these grave problems and the many minor ones, if the citizens of our fair city decide to elect me to a position on the city council, and to serve the best interest of all Glendale—east, west, north and south.

"Sincerely Yours,
"W. A. HORN."

PATTERSON PARK IS INVADED BY CATS AND MANY DOGS

Dogs, cats, horses and other animals are proving to be a full-grown nuisance at the Patterson avenue park, according to a statement made this morning by L. R. James, superintendent. During the past few weeks several hundred dollars' worth of damage has been done to the park by these animals.

Mr. James is asking the people living in the vicinity of that park to please keep their pets at home.

"The park is no place for dogs and cats," said Mr. James this morning, "and they are not wanted around there. In the past there have been many gophers in the park. These we are gradually cleaning out. The trouble is the dogs are trying to help us do this. Whenever they sent a gopher hole they begin to dig, regardless of whether the hole is in the center of a lawn or beneath a rose bush or tree. In every instance they are woing damage. The cats are climbing the trees in search of birds and in doing so they are scratching the bark and otherwise damaging them.

"The fact of the matter is that something simply must be done. If people living in that section do not keep their pets home, some other metehod will have to be devised to keep them out of the park."

TRAINS AND CARS TO RUN ON SPECIAL SCHEDULES TO CONVEY VISITORS

All Churches and Choirs Unite in Furthering Glendale's First Community Service Easter Sunrise Ceremony

At the meeting of the music committee of Glendale Community Service, held Monday with A. L. Baird, final details for the Easter sunrise services were arranged.

Members of the American Legion, the Glendale police department and Forest Lawn attendants will handle the automobile traffic, it is announced. As the plans have been organized, everything points to a very successful Easter celebration, which will be the first of its kind to be given under Glendale Community Service, bringing together the people of all districts and from all churches.

In order to take care of the large number of people who are planning to attend the Easter Sunrise services at the top of Mount Forest Lawn, special car service is being planned to Glendale from Los Angeles, Eagle Rock, Montrose and North Glendale.

The Montrose car will leave for Glendale at 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning and the Eagle Rock car will leave there at 4:45 o'clock. Passengers on these cars may connect with special cars which will be run by the Pacific Electric from the northern part of Glendale, leaving there at 5 o'clock. The cars from Los Angeles will leave the Main street station at 4:40 o'clock. Street car passengers should get off at San Fernando road, walk one block north and turn east, following the arrow signs through Forest Lawn Memorial park and taking the trail to the top of the hill.

For the direction of those coming to Glendale by automobile to attend the services, which will begin at 5:30 o'clock, arrow signs have been posted on all boulevards leading to this city. An area of about ten acres at the base of the hill, which has been named Mt. Forest Lawn, has been rolled for use in parking automobiles. The trail to the top of the hill has been widened and brush cleared away.

Among the more familiar foot trails leading to the top of the hill is the one which starts at the head of Cypress street and also the one beginning just back of the Little Church of the Flowers.

The large twenty-foot revolving cross has been installed at the peak of the hill and will be lighted tonight, advertising the location of the Glendale Community Service Easter Sunrise services. All indications point to the fact that many thousands of people will attend, as Mt. Forest Lawn is one of the most easily accessible locations of any of the Easter sunrise services.

PIES AND THINGS STREWN IN STREET BY AUTO CRASH

Bakerite Truck Is Hit by Big Car and Spread Occurs

Pies were wrecked and cakes went to the discard in an automobile accident which occurred at the corner of Central and Lexington at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when a truck belonging to the Bakerite Bakery and filled with pies and cakes, was struck by a large car. The bakery wagon was badly damaged and the "goodies" were scattered far and wide.

Automobiles driven by T. J. Fambrough, 206 North Orange street and Mrs. J. Egasse of Eagle Rock, came together at the corner of Brand and Wilson at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday evening. The fender of the Fambrough machine was bent.

Frank W. Hoppe, 181 Mansfield avenue, La Crescenta, and Mr. Dunderdale of Los Angeles were operating machines that collided at the corner of Verdugo and Sixth, at 6:30 o'clock this morning. Little damage was done.

BURGLARS DROP SAFE IN L. A. RIVER

Boys Make Discovery of Santa Monica Strong Box

A safe, sized 24x30 inches, which was later found to be the property of William L. Wilson of the Wilson company of Santa Monica, was found half buried in the sand of the Los Angeles river almost beneath the Los Feliz bridge. Two boys who were playing in the river, made the discovery. They reported the matter to the Glendale police, who got in touch with the sheriff's office at once. Officers from the sheriff's office took the safe into Los Angeles. Upon opening the safe it was found to be the property of Mr. Wilson.

Mr. Wilson stated that the safe was probably dropped into the river by burglars who took it from his establishment at Santa Monica. The lock combination was knocked off by the thieves in their attempt to open the door. Failing in this it is believed the thieves decided the best thing to do was to "ditch it" as soon as possible.

WEST SIDE FOLKS HEAR CANDIDATES

The invitation extended to the seven candidates by the West Glendale Association held in the Pacific Avenue school last night, to hear views and state platforms, brought out only four of the seven: Booth, Gilhuley, Webb and Martin, who each gave his views before a very attentive audience.

The prons and cons, the merits and promises were fully discussed together with the airport land and Verdugo park purchases. The majority were opposed to the manner in which these two pieces of property were secured, without first bringing the matter before the electors. Sewer, street work and annexation also came in for consideration. The meeting closed about 10 o'clock.

MRS. DOLLY WEST FRACTURES HIP

Accident Occurs As She Descends From Sight-seeing Bus

Mrs. Dolly West, aged 45 years, of 719 South Louise street, while alighting from a sight-seeing bus at the corner of Maple and Brand, at 5:30 last night, fell and fractured her hip. Immediately after the accident Mrs. West was hurried by auto to the Glendale sanitarium by Earl F. Fisher, of 4936 Buchanan street, Los Angeles, who happened to be passing at the time. The machine was escorted to the hospital by Motor Officer Collins, who reached the scene shortly after the accident. As soon as possible after the mishap Mr. West, husband of the injured lady, was notified, whereupon he was hurried to the hospital.

A few minutes after Mrs. West reached the sanitarium Dr. Westphal, head surgeon at the hospital, began the work of setting the broken bone. After this was done a Hobson splint was applied.

It was stated at the sanitarium this morning that the patient is resting as easily as could possibly be expected. She will probably be confined to the hospital for at least three months.

IMPROVEMENT FOLKS AND C. OF C. HOLD FINE CONFERENCE

Spirit of Co-operation Is Developed As Presidents of Local Organizations Express Ideas of Service to the Community

OPEN TRANSPORTATION FORUM PLANNED

Dues to Be Left at Their Present Figures and Advertising of the City Is Considered in All Its Aspects

The conference of presidents or other representatives of the various civic and business associations with directors of the chamber of commerce Wednesday night proved a great discussion. So well were the directors pleased with the response and the candor of the representatives, who were called upon in turn, it is probable other get-together meetings of a similar character will be held from time to time.

President Jesse Smith presided, and the keynote of the evening was sounded in an opening speech by Roy Kent, president of the Rotary club, and also a chamber director. He declared that the chamber could not maintain its existence and accomplish what it should for the community without the hearty co-operation of all the other organizations. Differences, he said, would naturally arise as to the policy to be followed, but this should not be cause for withdrawal from the chamber; that the board members are human and liable to make mistakes, but their hearts are right and they are unselfishly giving time and money to the advancement of the chamber, knowing a city can scarcely be built without such an institution.

A fine feeling was manifested, and the conference lasted for about three hours. Nearly all of the 15 or more speakers had some constructive criticism to offer which was well received by the directors.

Councilman Sam Davis urged the calling of an open forum meeting, not a dinner, at which the transportation problems now before the city would be discussed. When put to a vote the suggestion was unanimously endorsed and the directors agreed to call the meeting in the near future.

The dues, whether they should be higher or lower, were also discussed, and the concensus of opinion seemed to be they should remain at the present figure.

There was considerable talk about advertising and the need for advertising Glendale abroad rather than at home was stressed, but no definite program was outlined.

Mr. Rudolph Streit, who spoke several times, wanted more democracy and less autocracy in the chamber.

The group inciluded Roy Kent, representing the Rotary club; A. L. Ferguson, of the Kiwanis; George Whitaker, of the Exchange club; V. M. Hollister, of Community Service; H. M. Butts, of the Credit association; W. A. Horn, of the Realty board; R. Streit, of the West Glendale Improvement association; Alexander Mitchell, of the Foothill Improvement association; William Griffin, of the San Fernando boulevard association; Mrs. A. L. Findlay, of the Tuesday Afternoon club; Dr. Jessie Russell, of the Thursday club; Mrs. Eustace B. Moore, of the P.-T. A. Federation; Col. James Everington, of the American Legion; Mayor Spencer Robinson and Sam Davis, representing the city council; Mr. H. C. Yale, and chamber of commerce members—Jesse Smith, president; W. E. Hewitt, vice-president; C. D. Lusby, L. H. Wilson, P. J. Hayselden, Daniel Campbell, and A. R. Eastman.

THE EXCHANGE CLUB DISCUSSES ITS DINNER DANCE

At the meeting of the Exchange club held Wednesday noon at the Harriet Mae Tea room, interest and discussion centered on the dinner dance to be given by the organization the evening of April 5 at Sunset Canyon club. It will celebrate the twelfth anniversary of the founding of Exchange clubs, the first one having been organized April 11, 1911.

The function will also combine the "spring poet's dinner." Every member is expected to display his literary talents by reading a poem of his own composition. Judges will pass on these expressions of the muse and to the writer of the one considered the best a fine silver cup, donated by Past President W. B. Kelley, will be presented.

CONFERENCE ON LOWER FARES WITH P. E. OFFICIALS

Chamber of Commerce Committee Discusses Lower Fares

The committee appointed by the chamber of commerce to confer with P. E. officials relative to better service and lower fares, and which is composed of Peter L. Ferry, chairman, W. E. Evans and Thomas D. Watson, had a conference with Vice President and Traffic Manager Pontius and General Passenger Agent Smith on Wednesday.

The subject was thoroughly gone into and the factors in the problem discussed from all angles, such as whether the Glendale line is paying or not and the number of passengers it hauls in comparison with other lines. In this connection business for 1921, 1922 and 1923 was checked and the meeting then adjourned until a later date to give the P. E. officials time to study over the proposition and enable the committee to secure further data.

While nothing definite was accomplished at this first session, committee members said they hoped to persuade the P. E. to reduce fares.

It was agreed the committee would request the Glendale city council to defer action on any bus franchises or permits until the committee has completed its investigations. It is now arranging for a conference with members of the railway commission.

When the Second street tunnel is completed the mileage to Los Angeles will be considerably shortened and P. E. officials indicated the round trip fare would be reduced proportionately.

Notice

NOT long ago the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings Bank sent through the mail some thousand Beneficial Term Savings pass books, each containing a deposit of $1.00 (subject, of course, to the filing of the necessary signature cards with this bank). A number of these signature cards have not yet been signed. May we ask those receiving these one dollar credits to bring them in at their earliest convenience—this in order that our records in this matter may be completed without too great delay.

We still have a few of these books left, and if, in the preparation of our lists we overlooked anyone who desires to have this bank furnish a deposit of $1.00 toward the opening of a Savings Account, either for himself, some member of his family, some youngster, or an employe, either of our Glendale officers will gladly rectify the oversight.

If you want a $1.00 Beneficial Term pass book mailed, telephone either of these branches and we will be glad to send you one.

East and Middle West Get Blizzards and High Winds

[By Associated Press]

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The March lion and the March lamb, which have been playing hide-and-seek during the month, seemed today to have completely reversed the traditional order of things and in some sections at least the month gave every indication of going out with a wintry roar.

Weather bureau officials, in making public record breaking temperatures in the east and middle west for so late in the season, also announced that this March had "taken the palm."

Some of the thermometer readings telegraphed in today, all of them making new low points, were: Washington, 18; Harrisburg, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, 14; Erie, 6; Albany, N. Y., zero; Buffalo, 6; Fort Wayne, Ind., 14; Greenville, Maine, 18 below, and White River., Ont., 30 below.

Weather bureau officials said the shifts had been so rapid this month that they had been kept "on their toes"; in many instances it had been necessary to predict cold and warm weather for the same 24 hours due to lightning-like shifts.

NEW YORK SHIVERS AS THERMOMETER FALLS

[By Associated Press]

NEW YORK, March 29.—New Yorkers went to work today shivering in the coldest March weather on record here. The temperature was 12 degrees.

The coldest March weather previously recorded was in 1873, when it was 19.

At Saranac Lake the mercury dropped to 30 degrees below zero, and temperatures of 10 below zero were reported from several upper state points.

UPPER MICHIGAN IS WRAPPED IN BLIZZARD

[By Associated Press]

DETROIT, March 29.—The upper half of lower Michigan and the entire northern part of the state was today in the grip of weather more severe than any experienced during the winter. A blizzard that brought with it sub-zero temperature was raging today.

BOSTON FEELS THE EASTERN COLD "SNAP"

[By Associated Press]

BOSTON, March 29.—The temperature in New England today made new low records for the season. In Boston early today it was 4 above, making it one of the coldest mornings of the year.

The lowest official temperature in New England was 18 below at Greenville, Maine.

PITTSBURGH ALSO TOUCHED BY COLD

PITTSBURGH, March 29.—The coldest weather in the history of Pittsburgh weather bureau for March 29 was recorded early today when the mercury fell to 13 degrees above zero.

CLEVELAND FOREST RESERVE FIRE CONTROLLED

[By Associated Press]

SANTA ANA, March 29.—The fire burning in the Cleveland forest reserve at the head of San Juan, Bell and Trabuco Canyons today was believed under control and further progress of the flames checked.

A force of more than 100 men under the direction of Forest Ranger Snider and Fire Warden W. E. Adkinson have fought the flames for nearly five days. The fire started in one of the most inaccessible parts of the Santiago mountains to which campers rarely go.

No resorts were endangered by the flames, although at one time the fire swept within two miles of San Juan Hot Springs. Due to the contour of the land and the nature of the undergrowth about the hot springs resort, no anxiety was felt at any time for the buildings there.

According to the forest rangers, the only damage done by the fire is to the watershed of the upper Trabuco, Bell and San Juan Canyons and flood danger from the seasonal rains has been greatly increased as a result.

WIVES TO GET VIEW OF PAY CHECK

[By Associated Press]

NEW ORLEANS, March 29.—Married men employed by the city government were thrown into consternation today with the announcement of Commissioner Murphy that hereafter their pay checks would be mailed to their home address instead of being handed to them in person.

Long arguments and objections counted for naught.

"Every city employee from the mayor down is going to get his check at home," Commissioner Murphy said. "Every member of the commission council is in the same fix as the street laborer on this move. The money belongs in the home and I am going to do my best to put it there and then if some of the wives cannot keep it there that is their fault."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Glendale Press:

The vital importance of the establishment of a permanent aviation field in Glendale is shown by a study of the plans for the defense of the Pacific Coast that are at present under consideration by the United States government and that are incorporated in the provisions of the Raker bill that was introduced in the last session of congress. The Raker bill failed of passage in the rush of the closing days of the session, but it is predicted that it will be written on the statute books early in the next session.

Briefly, the Raker bill provides for the building of three national highways extending from the Canadian line to the Mexican border, built in such a manner as to permit the transport of heavy artillery and the passage of heavy trucks. The first line, which is to lie close to the coast, sheltered, as far as possible, by groves or hills, is to have heavy gun emplacements established at strategic points near the ocean, and is to form the first line of defense in case of attack from the Pacific ocean. This route, to be known as the Balboa highway, is also to be dotted at suitable intervals by sites available for the airplane stations of an aerial patrol.

The airplane stations are to be strung along the three lines of highways at 25 mile intervals, are to be approximately forty acres in size and are to be located immediately adjacent to the roadside.

The outer or coast line of defense, as mapped out now, is to pass through Los Angeles, where, it is admitted by aviation experts, there is not now, nor is there any possibility of, the location of a permanent field for airplanes, and this means, in the opinion of army fliers who are in close touch with the plans of the government, that a permanent field must be obtained within striking distance of Los Angeles where the planes to be used during a war on the Pacific Ocean can make their headquarters and establish the base for their operations of offense and defense. The location of the Glendale aviation field has already been endorsed by aviators of the army and navy services who have had an opportunity to study it in connection with the plans for the defense of the coast against an invader coming in from the Pacific Coast, where it is admitted, the next war, if war is to come, will originate.

As a further indication of the uses to which the Glendale field may be put by the federal government, it is stated that Los Angeles is to form the terminus of the aerial mail route that is to be extended to Southern California, and this will make Glendale the logical place for the establishment of the station where the mail will arrive and from which it will be started on its eastern journey.

The combination of army flying field and aerial mail station at the Glendale aviation field will result in the training of a large number of men who are already anxious to enter the government flying service as soon as adequate facilities can be arranged to permit their flying and who would have an opportunity to study aviation under conditions that would approximate as closely as possible actual war conditions. In addition to the men in the federal service, the number of civilian aviators who would take advantage of the Glendale field, as soon as it became established permanently, would increase by leaps and bounds as flying developed and as the cost of machines was placed within the reach of the man of moderate means. The avidity with which the government machines that were discarded recently were snapped up by civilian aviators showed the eagerness with which the younger men are taking to this branch of locomotion, a branch that is destined, according to every known authority, to assume a more important place in the life of the country with every year.

The inauguration of a regular flying service between Los Angeles and San Francisco, as already planned by one of the firms that will locate in Glendale as soon as the legal tangles incident to the establishment of the field here have been disposed of, will also establish Glendale as the terminus of a daily air service that will include two ships in each direction daily, as no other field exists anywhere in this immediate region now, nor is there likely to be such a field anywhere else within the near future. These various advantages, however, it is pointed out, can only be secured now by the prompt acquisition of the property on which it is proposed to locate the Glendale field, and as soon as this has been done the support of both commercial and governmental flyers is assured in unstinted measure.

SUBURBAN REALTY CORRECTS ADVERTISING

The advertisement in yesterday's Glendale Daily Press of the Suburban Realty company was misleading in that it said "courtesy to agents." The Suburban Realty company is a member of the Multiple Listing System and is therefore not able to place the sale of its property among those who are not members of the system. This correction is made in order that agents may understand the position of the Suburban Realty company and govern themselves accordingly.

MISS KIRKPATRICK, NEW SOPRANO, HAS FINE VOICE

A very pleasant social affair was the musicale given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. L. E. Richardson and Miss Ida Myers, at the home of Mrs. Richardson, 1856 South Brand boulevard, at which Miss Flora Phillis Kirkpatrick, a soprano comparatively new in Glendale, and who has a fine voice, was heard with great pleasure in several numbers, "Fleurez Mes Yeaux" from the opera "Le Cid," "Love But a Day" (Gilberte) and an encore number, "The Kiss." Mrs. Grant accompanied Miss Kirkpatrick at the piano.

Miss Lucile Allen, a Glendale girl, played charmingly Kreisler's "Schon Rosmarin," and "By the Waters of Minnetonka" (Lieurance). Miss Winifred Parker provided the piano accompaniment.

Mrs. J. A. Wright contributed two piano numbers which revealed fine technique—"First Polonnaise" and "Opus 42" both Chopin compositions, also as an encore MacDowell's "Shadow Dance."

Mrs. Hortense Low Bowman, a dramatic feader of Boston who is now residing in Los Angeles, entertained delightfully with readings which included selections from "Cricket on the Hearth" (Dickens), "Little Orphan Annie" (Riley), "'Tis Home Where the Heart Is," the garden song from Tennyson's "Maud," and "Grandmother Gray."

Following the program punch and wafers were served by the hostesses. The musicale was a benefit for the piano fund of the music section, of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

REV. C. S. PROUT DRAWS MANY TO DISCOURSE

Seventh Day Adventist Gospel Tabernacle Is Completely Filled

An audience which completely filled the Seventh-day Adventist gospel tabernacle on Myrtle ave., Eagle Rock, listened to a discourse Wednesday evening by Rev. C. S. Prout, on "The Greatest Romance of the Ages." This is the story of the means by which Jesus Christ, who is set forth in the Scripture as a bridegroom, has wooed and won to himself his bride, the Church. After sin had entered the world and wrought its terrible havoc upon mankind, and its inhabitants had become spiritually diseased, so that, as the Scripture describes it, they were to the eye of God "full of wounds and bruises and putrefying sores," it was a wonderful thing that Christ, looking upon his people in such a condition, should have loved them and in order to woo and win them back to God, sacrificed his position in Heaven, took upon himself human nature, to yield up his life on the cross and remain forever identified with the human family. We never see any exhibition of human love equaling this.

Christ is in heaven now preparing a home for his bride, (John 14: 2-5) and there will be after He comes again a great "marriage supper" as mentioned in Rev. 19. The bride, the Church, will be arrayed in bridal garments, which will be, the Scripture tells us, "the righteousness of saints." No man can be at that supper who has not on the "wedding garment."

Sunday evening, April 1, Rev. Prout will answer from the Bible some questions which have perplexed many people and have always been a subject of speculation and controversy. He will tell why it is that an all-powerful God doesn't destroy the devil; why he permits him to work evil in the earth and why sin, sickness, and suffering are permitted.

PROFESSIONALS IN COMMUNITY PLAY

Many Have Dramatic Experience in "Other People's Husbands"

Carter Moore, a professional player of Los Angeles and Glendale, will appear in the production of "Other People's Husbands," to be presented by the Community Players of Eagle Rock, at the Central school on March 4 and 5. Several others in the cast have had considerable dramatic experience. Bartlett Carrie, juvenile lead, has been in dramatic work for some time.

Miss Mildred Lerchin plays the feminine lead. She is quite a favorite of local followers of the dramatic art. Mrs. Blanche Morrison also has a charming role.

Miss Esther Smith an Occidental student who resides in Eagle Rock, takes the part of the privileged family servant very capably. Miss Ruth Pollock, Miss Ilene Renison and Mrs. Lambertson are the three wives whose husbands get into such serious entanglements.

All of these people have studied and tried earnestly to make this production one of the best of the three to be presented on the fourth and fifth of April.

PROF. CHANDLER TO TO BE TRIED ON SATURDAY

The case of Professor E. E. Chandler of Occidental College who was arrested by J. B. Mercer motor officer, for parking his car with an annexation banner upon it within the "no electioneering" zone in front of the city hall on Tuesday, will come before the local court Saturday morning after the regular nine-thirty session with traffic violators and speed fiends. This case has occasioned more excitement than anything else in the whole annexation campaign.

Especially among the consolidation faction did the excitement run high when the professor was taken into custody, and later released on his own cognizance. Many will be in court Saturday morning who are curious and actively interested in the csae.

A young married couple engaged a pretty cook. But her cookin was terrible. On the first morning after her arrival the bacon was burned to a cinder.

"Darling," said the wife, "I'm afraid cook's burned the bacon. You'll have to be satisfied with a kiss for breakfast."

"All right," said the husband gruffly, "call her in."

CHRISTIAN WORKERS TO MEET FRIDAY

The Christian Workers of the Eagle Rock Church of Christ, wil' meet at the parsonage at 2:30 Friday afternoon, April 6. The program will be instructive, and interesting, dealing with general missionary work.

MARCH BUILDING PERMITS SOAR TO $280,000

$300,000 Mark Is to Be Passed by End of the Current Month

With $280,000 worth of building permits already on hand, and the month not yet over, March has surpassed all previous building records. Whether or not this prosperity of permits hinges on the question of annexation is hard to say, but everyone seems anxious to get their business conducted speedily, and their buildings under way. March of last year has held the building record until this time, with a total of $227,000.

It is fully expected that this month's total will pass the $300,000 mark, as both yesterday and today were rush days, and permits were issued in rapid succession at the city hall. The following permits have been granted recently: To the L. B. Wilson Realty company, for a 5-room residence and garage at 253 N. Townsend, to cost $4000. The L. B. Wilson company is located at 114 E. Colorado. Dan Carney is builder.

Elgin L. Pierce, 141 Eddy avenue, a 5-room residence permit, to cost $2800, will be erected at 115 S. Delaware.

Mrs. Belle Heusel, 134 Lawrence avenue, 3-room residence permit, to be built at 132 Lawrence avenue, at an estimated cost of $1000.

A. A. Sears of 730 E. Sycamore avenue, a permit for a 4-room residence at 736 Sycamore, to cost $1000. Also to A. A. Sears, 4-room residence permit, for 734 Sycamore street, $1000.

To Leona A. Zabel, Van Nuys, a permit for a double garage at 162 S. Delaware street; builders, N. E. Kaiser and Frank Kaiser; value, $275.

To T. M. Skelton, 144 Valley Drive, a 4-room residence permit, at 154 Valley Drive, to cost $1500.

To B. M. McLaughlin, 124 South Kenilworth, a garage permit.

To H. Boehle and B. Carl Goertz, architects, a 4-room residence permit for 270 S. Satsuma, to cost $2500.

To John L. Salzgeber, 2655 Alice street, a garage permit.

To Emil Kalhange, Glendale, a 5-room dwelling permit, to be built at 226 Maryland avenue, at an estimated cost of $4000.

To George L. Freeman, 713 E. Park avenue, a permit for a 3-room house to rent at 719 E. Park avenue, cost $2000.

To B. C. Eline, a 2-room garage, at 207 Peyton avenue.

To Marion Harding, 132 N. Grand View avenue, a garage.

To J. C. Truman, 5714 Santa Monica boulevard, a garage to be built at 717 Valley Drive.

EAGLE ROCK WILL BE ADMITTED TO L. A. IN JUNE

City Fire Department Considers Allowance for Eagle Rock

Benjamin B. Martsolf, city clerk of Eagle Rock today announced that he had been informed by city clerk of Los Angeles, Dominguez, that it will not be necessary to call an election of all the Los Angeles voters to definitely incorporate Eagle Rock into the city of Los Angeles. The local board of trustees will be called upon to pass a resolution stating the desire of Eagle Rock to become such a unit with Los Angeles, which will then be turned over to the city council of Los Angeles for presentation at one of their regular meetings. When a resolution has been passed by the Los Angeles council, the ordinance will then be sent to Sacramento for ratification.

This procedure may take less than sixty days, but Eagle Rock will not be admitted to Los Angeles until some time in June, probably the latter part of that month. The reason for this, Mr. Dominguez stated, is that the Los Angeles city elections will take place during the months of April and May. All the precincts are now established, the voters registered, and everything is in readiness for the issues now on file. Eagle Rock citizens would be unable to vote, coming in just at the time of these elections, until a district could be established and registered here. So it is not deemed advisable to rush the action, and the present administration will no doubt hold office in Eagle Rock until some time in June.

The Los Angeles fire department called the city hall yesterday to ascertain what kind of equipment Eagle Rock is now provided with, and what is needed. The Los Angeles budget for the coming year is being arranged, and with the consolidation of Eagle Rock in view, it was thought advisable to make allowance for their needs at this time.

3 CHARACTERS ARE MISSING IN 'CLARENCE'

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler and Hero, Clarence, Fail to Appear

Many of the embryo "stars" who signified their intention to be on hand for the next community play tryouts, failed to appear at the Central School last night, but all those who were present won a place on one of the casts. Several showed real training and others a natural ability for "play-acting."

The younger element turned out to try for all of the roles suited to their age and characteristics, but a Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler failed to put in an appearance. No one in the most mature set appeared to play these two splendid and amusing characters. And only one Clarence appeared. But there were many more who would have liked to place in the part and were unable to because the requirements are "too stiff." A knowledge of the piano, and some training on the saxophone are both necessary in order to put in all the "stage business" of the second act.

Two incomplete casts were chosen. Mrs. Fischer has announced that it will be necessary to "pick on" someone in the community to take the roles of Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler and also the missing Clarence, and count upon them not to refuse.

All those who tried out last night read through the second act in a practiced manner, although all stage business was left out at the first rehearsal.

A number of those who tried out underestimated their own ability in this work, and cast themselves for parts quite unsuited to their type. Several who could do the character parts very capably did not desire them, so Mrs. Fischer, community play director, found it necessary to recast several people.

Those who were placed last night were: Marian and Frank Lerchin, as Cora and Bobby in one of the two casts; Harwin Mann and Miss Janet M. Hodge, in the other; Wanda Morrow and Anna Mae Monroe as the two Dellas; Ruth Pollock and Miss Miller, as the two Miss Pennys, and Orvid Lundy as Clarence. The other characters will be selected at once so that rehearsals can begin.

MRS. SQUIRE OUT FOR SCHOOL TRUSTEE

Only Candidate for Office Vacated by Mrs. Alice Dirkes

Mrs. J. B. Squire is the only candidate in the field for school trustee. The election will take place in the Central school lobby, on Friday, March 30.

Although the school term will soon be over, it is necessary to have someone take the place of Mrs. Alice Dirkes, who has resigned. After this term the Los Angeles board of education will be in control, but at present the educational board deemed it advisable to appoint some one else to complete the work for the current year, carrying on the duties of Mrs Dirkes, who has been an earnest worker.

Mrs. Squire is capable and well-known. She is a member of the Woman's club, also of the P.-T. A., Community Players, and the American Legion auxiliary. She has resided in Eagle Rock four or five years, so she is familiar with the civic problems. With so many friends to back her, it is hoped that a good showing of voters will be out to cast their ballots for Mrs. Squire, despite the fact that this election comes so soon after the big question of annexation.

BRAZILIAN REVOLUTION IS GROWING GRAVE

[By Associated Press]

MONTEVIDEO, Mar. 29.—All advices received from the Brazilian frontier agrees as to the gravity of the situation in the state of Rio Grande Do Sul and the great extent attained by the revolutionary movement.

The capture of Rosario caused great alarm in Santa Anna Do Livramento and in Quarahy. The inhabitants of both these places fled, taking refuge in Ataques, a Uruguayan town just over the border.

An uprising also is reported in Viamo, about ten miles from Porto Alegre. The rebels are said to have taken possession of three other towns.

Banditry has assumed large proportions in the southern part of the state.

FIVE INJURED IN D. & R. G. WRECK

[By Associated Press]

PUEBLO, Colo., March 29.—Five persons were injured, none seriously, in a head-on collision of two passenger trains on the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad early today at Sample Siding, near the entrance of the Royal Gorge, seven miles west of Canon City.

Three engines were derailed and two baggage cars and a smoking car left the tracks. One baggage car rolled over into the Arkansas river and an express messenger went with it. He crawled out and escaped with a few bruises.

CITY PLAYERS TO GIVE FIRST REVUE FOR LEGION

To Be Held at the Tuesday Afternoon Club Auditorium

The Glendale Community Players will present their first musical comedy, entitled, "The Fun Revue of 1923," in the Tuesday Afternoon club auditorium on the evenings of Thursday and Friday, April 19 and 20. The profits of both nights will go to swell the Glendale American Legion building fund.

With 40 Glendalians in the cast and two months of earnest rehearsing, the players feel confident of a brilliant success. The comedy is of a light, sparkling nature, full of clean, wholesome fun, and includes about 20 specialty numbers along singing, dancing and chorus lines. Among the many attractions will be a Rainbow ballet, with a song composed for and dedicated to the Rainbow division, produced for the first time on any stage at the Philharmonic in Los Angeles three weeks ago; the costumes for the Rainbow ballet have been arranged for by Miss Dorothy Woods and made by Mrs. Holway of 201 W. Burchett, with head pieces designed and made by Mrs. Troth of 329 W. Maple, members of the Glendale Community Players' wardrobe committee.

Tickets at popular prices will be on sale from April 1. Early buying of tickets is urged, as the auditorium seats but 765, and it is estimated that at least 2,000 people will want to see this show. The Arabian play previously produced by the Community Players at the Glendale theatre created such profound enthusiasm and admiration that their second production is eagerly anticipated by the general public. Indeed, so good was the Arabian play that the Players received a check for $250 from a Glendale resident, who wishes his name withheld, as a token of his appreciation of the art and finish displayed by the Players. Remember the dates, April 19 and 20.

Mrs. Brewster Is Success At Long Beach Club Meet

LONG BEACH, Mar. 29.—A large and enthusiastic audience greeted Mrs. Harold L. Brewster of Glendale Wednesday morning, when she read "Lightning" by Frank Bacon, for the modern drama section of the Ebell club.

According to Mrs. Brewster at one time Bacon was a struggling actor in Los Angeles and at that time tried to sell a play that nobody wanted. It was the play that afterwards became "Lightning," doubtless the greatest hit in the history of American theatricals. It was so quaint, so delicious, so human, that people went again and again to see it.

She told of an eminent English actor who came all the way from London to see the play and who said he considered it to be the finest dramatic art ever produced in America.

Mrs. Brewster said that Frank Bacon was to "Lightning" what Joe Jefferson was to "Rip Van Winkle" and what David Warfield is to "Peter Grimm." He had no acquaintances. To everyone who knew him personally or merely across the footlights he was a friend. No other words are more significant of his genius for friendship than "He was my friend, faithful and just to me." Mrs. Brewster, a reader of much charm, has a fine dramatic voice that lends itself beautifully to character work. She caught the spirit of her play and stimulated the imagination of her audience as she interpreted the characters in her earnest characteristic manner.

Mrs. Mary G. Willes expressed the pleasure it gave the members of the section to have Mrs. Brewster with them again.

JERRY JETER WINS LARGER AUDIENCE WITH CARTOONS

More than 100 was the increase in the attendance last night over the previous night at the Jeter revival. Several hundred people gave ear to the music as Mr. Hollingshead touched the keys on the piano.

Then the cartooning by the evangelist brought forth much laughter from the large audience. The young people gathered some of the pictures to carry home with them, that they too might learn cartooning, the evangelist giving them lessons.

The evangelist Jeremiah Peter's subject, was "Preach the Word."

He chose his text from the 4th chapter of Ephesians, Paul's commission to Timothy.

Jerry Jeter seems to be everybody's evangelist. From the very beginning many expressions of appreciation and approval of his messages were heard throughout the tabernacle.

Many think that 3000 people will be hearing the evangelist soon from the way the crowds are increasing. He announced that he would cartoon again tonight. Mrs. Jeter speaks at 2:30 each afternoon.

REBELS TAKE FRONTIER TOWN

[By Associated Press]

BUENOS AIRES, Mar. 29.—A Montevideo dispatch to La Nacion says that advices from the frontier town of Rivera report the capture of Alegrete by Brazilian revolutionaries. The town was fortified and the rebel forces, although in possession of several machine guns, retreated without a fight. Many of their regiments are said to have gone over to the revolutionaries.

BRANCH LIBRARY AT GRAND VIEW FINDS WELCOME

Sixty-one Applications Are Filed During First Day of Service

The branch library which is to serve the people of the northwest section of Glendale opened for business Tuesday for the first time and during the day 61 applications were given out. Half of the books that went out were non-fiction. Miss Frost reports that there was not an hour during the day when there was not someone or several people visiting the rooms in the Grand View school, where the branch library is located.

The formal presentation of the library took place Monday night, when an interesting program was given. Much of the success of that event was due to the united spirit in which the committee including Mrs. Ellsperman, chairman, Mrs. Lucas, Mrs. Rummell, Mrs. E. H. Botsford, Mrs. Mair, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Hollenbeck and Mrs. Thompson served at the entertainment. The reception committee included Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, Mrs. Finny and Mrs. Ferber.

A feature of the occasion was the flowers, which were furnished by Mr. Wheldon. Among them was a very rare flower known as the Parrot's bill or Clythus.

LEGION NEWS

For God and Country, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the Great War; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of Justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrete and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.—Preamble to the Constitution of the American Legion.

WHAT IS ASSIMILATION?

Probably the American Legion's greatest efforts along any line are being concentrated on building up the standards of immigrants who flock to our home country, so that they may become real citizens. There are many hundreds of thousands now whose standards are anything but "American."

America should assimilate the aliens already within her borders before she permits more to enter. That is the Legion's position in arguing for total exclusion of immigrants for a period of five years.

What does that sentence mean? The term American is clear, so is the term alien—what about that word assimilate?

It means to make like, but to make like what? Like ourselves, exactly as we are, or like the folks we know we ought to be? And is the operation to be wholly one-sided? Are we to give everything and take nothing?

The Hospital committee, headed by Mrs. Nellie Snow Hyer visits all the hospitals carrying cheer and looking after the little physical and mental needs of the invalids.

Recently the Auxiliary's "Flower day," made a wonderful success through the enthusiastic school children of Glendale, netting three carloads of flowers, wild and exotic, which the ladies made up into 264 boquets and personally presented them to as many invalids in the T. B. and medical wards at Sawtelle, Barlow's and the local hospitals and to Civil, Spanish and World war veterans and others. So greatly was this Flower day appreciated that the men are already asking, "When is that Glendale Auxiliary coming again?"

The Thimble club, meetings held at the regular sessions of the Auxiliary, by means of its famous layettes has brought comfort and happiness to many needy homes.

Many such enterprises might be listed to prove that the Auxiliary in every way, every day, is seeking to make the world happier and better.

COMMANDERY BALL IS HELD WITH 150 DANCERS

Important Announcements Are Made by Eminent Commander Hogue

The annual ball to be given by Glendale Commandery No. 53, Knights Templar, took place last night at Masonic Temple with 150 Sir Knights, their ladies and guests present. The Knights were in full Templar uiforms, and with the varied colors displayed in the beautiful evening gowns worn by the ladies the scene was indeed a most picturesque one. The hall had been decorated with garlands of greenery and tiny white roses, and the platform, where Kelly's Shrine club six-piece orchestra was stationed, was banked with ferns and palms.

Preceding the dance the Knights and ladies gathered together in the Commandery room, where a drill was held in charge of Past Commander Eminent Sir Clem L. V. Moore. They then adjourned to the ball room where the grano march was led by Eminent Commander and Mrs. Roy V. Hogue. During the evening refreshments of punch, wafers and ginger ale were served.

The evening of dancing was interspersed with a very delightful program of vocal numbers and fancy dancing, and included: Solos by Mrs. Lumpkin, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Gertrude Champlain Erb, "God Touched the Rose" (Brown) and "Love's Springtime" (Hammond); solos by Mrs. Porter Custer, accompanied at the piano by Dr. Bruce Gordon Kingsley, "At Dawning" (Cadman), "Vale" (Kennedy Russell) and "Bowl of Roses" (Metcalf); fancy dance by little Blossom Moore, who was introduced as the daughter of the Commandery. She is a pupil of the Pearl Keller studio; vocal solos by Miss Lucy Merz, one of the Carl Bronson singers, accompanied at the piano by Miss Nell Stegner, "The Maids of Cadiz," "Lo, Hear the Gentle Lark," and "If No One Ever Marries Me."

The committee in charge of arrangements for this brilliant social affair included Francis J. W. Henry, chairman; Frederic A. Clark, William McMillan, Robert M. Grumbling and Wm. W. Worley.

Several important announcements were made by Eminent Commander Hogue, as follows:

On April 24 the Glendale Commandery officers and members will go to Hollywood to confer the Order of the Temple.

On April 30 the officers and members of Hollywood Commandery will come to Glendale to confer the Order of the Temple here.

The regular Commandery Easter service will be held at 11 o'clock Sunday morning at the First Congregational church, corner of Wilson and Central avenues. The Knights are to be in full Templar uniforms and to meet at the Masonic Temple in ample time to march from there at 10:30 o'clock.

A letter was read inviting the members to attend a reception to be given April 13 at the Masonic Temple on Figueroa street, in honor of L. P. Newby, grand master of the grand encampment of the United States of America.

Ice Sculpture Is An Art Practiced Among Top-Notch Steamship Chefs.

Chef Completing a Bridge in Ice.

New York, Cooks, that is, good cooks, cooks who are dignified with the title of "Chef," are generally recognized as artists when they ably master all the details of their craft and prepare dishes not only appealing to the appetite, but pleasing to the eye That many chefs, especially those in big hotels, and on steamships, such as the palatial passenger vessels of the United States Lines, are artists is readily admitted by the traveling public. Very few people know, however, that many of the cooks aboard the United States liners are not only artists, but sculptors in an actual sense.

Passengers on the President Harding, the America, President Roosevelt, the George Washington, and other liners of the big American steamship organization, as well as the hundreds who visit these vessels at their Hoboken piers on sailing days have ample opportunity to see the work of these super-chefs, not only in the line of cooking, but in sculpture.

Entering the main dining saloon on sailing day of the President Roosevelt, one sees at the head of the room a huge buffet on which are displayed, ready for serving, a most tempting array of cold cuts—lamb, beef, and pork, ham and tongue, chicken and jellied squab, all lavishly garnished with greens. Side tables carry other tempting dishes, ranging from cold lobster to delicate pastries.

Each of these tables also will hold a striking decoration, at first sight appearing to be glass, at second to be ice, which it actually is.

American eagles with wings wide spread; crouching lions; elephants, life-like in every line; bridges under which sail craft fashioned from cake and icings, glisten under the lights of the dining salon, adding to the picturesqueness of the scene.

It is generally thought that these table decorations are cast in metal moulds through a freezing process. Such is not the case, however, as each piece represents hours of work with a variety of sharp tools on the part of a cook who has spent years in learning the art of ice sculpture.

Several of the chefs on the United States liners are particularly clever in fashioning decorative table pieces from blocks of ice. Among these are Harry Klein, of the chef's staff of the President Roosevelt. Klein, who since a very young boy has studied the duties of a chef, starting in as a pantry boy when not yet in his teens, is often called upon by passengers to work in their presence.

With a large cake of ice from the ship's freezing plant, he starts to work, using tools similar to those employed by a sculpture in stone. With these he gradually converts the ice into practically any design required, while the passengers watch his efforts with fascination. Klein never breaks a piece of ice on which he is working, though at times in fashioning a table piece he will work down the material to the thinness of an ordinary pane of window glass.

It took this cook about three years to learn ice sculpturing, though it takes many a considerable longer time to master the art. It is taken up as a necessary adjunct by all cooks aspiring to be superchefs, as through it more striking table decorations can be fashioned than through any other medium. When a cook is able to qualify as an ice sculptor he is admitted into the inner circle of the most capable chefs on land or sea.

DR. WINNARD IS CALLED AGAIN BY TROPICO

Annual Supper and Meeting Is Held by the Congregation

At the annual supper and meeting of the Tropico Presbyterian church Wednesday night, at which covers were laid for about 100, the most important business transacted was the calling of Dr. James F. Winnard as pastor for another year

Three new elders were elected, viz., J. Allen Adams, A. L. Hebbert and H. V. Goldsborough, the holdovers being S. H. Wilcox and Dr. Harry St. Clair.

Reports were submitted by the heads of all the church organizations which were most encouraging, Treasurer H. L. Moody reporting a balance in the treasury and all debts paid.

During the year the church has had 54 additions, representing 25 new families. In connection with the report of the Men's Brotherhood, of which Sam Brown is president, announcement was made that at its regular meeting next week, Friday evening, it will be addressed by the seven men who are candidates for the office of city councilman, and who are expected to define their policies.

THE MARKETS

[By Associated Press]

NEW YORK, March 29.—Stock prices sagged slightly in today's relatively dull session. Week-end profit-taking with a relative lack of new buying power was responsible for the recession and was sentimentally influenced by higher money rates and the disappointing showing of some of the February railroad earnings statements. Sales approximated 800,000 shares.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Some irregularity took place at the opening of today's stock market, but the main tendency appeared to be upward. Good buying was noted in the recent industrial favorites, Baldwin, American Can, and U. S. Steel common improving fractionally on initial sales. Further heaviness made its appearance in the Virginia-Carolina Chemical issues. Stewart Warner advanced two points.

Equipment, steel, oil and automotive issues all showed moderate strength. U. S. Steel crossed 108 for a net gain of more than a point. American Ice advanced 1¼ and American Locomotive 1. Stewart Warner extended its gain to 2½ points and Studebaker and Chandler improved fractionally. Steel and Tube preferred and Phillip Morris, each off a point and Allied Chemical, off 5-8, were the outstanding heavy spots. Foreign exchanges opened irregular. Demand sterling was unchanged, just above $4.68 and French francs advanced 3 points to 6.62 cents. German marks, which appeared to have been "pegged" at .0048 cents, dropped today to .0046 cents in reflection of the apparent failure of the German $50,000,000 loan.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Publication of several disappointing February railroad earnings reports resulted in selling of shares in the group and caused a reversal of the general upward movement. Many of the industrial shares slumped 1 to 2 points below yesterday's final figures, among them Studebaker, American Can, American Car, American Tobacco, California Petroleum and General Electric. Selling pressure in the rails was most effective against St. Paul preferred, Northern Pacific, Frisco preferred, Great Northern preferred and Rock Island, Associated Drygoods and Steel and Tube preferred, were conspicuously weak, dropped 2¼ and 5 points respectively. Call money opened at 5½%.

While there were some individual gains among the railroad mortgages and industrial issues, and the active United States government bonds held steady, today's early bond market generally continued reactionary. Virginia - Carolina Chemical issues, which have been depressed in sympathy with lower stock prices were up, the 7½s with warrants and the 7s advancing 3½ points each. Armour & Company 4¼s were up 1 1-8 and Marland Oil 7½s one point. Liggett & Myers 7s were off 2⅜, and losses of 1½ points were recorded by Lorrilard 7s, Pierce Arrow 8s, when issued, Brier Hill 5½s and Bethlehem Steel 5½s and the refunding 5s.

Southern Railway 5s were up 1 1-8.

The daily average production east of the Rocky Mountains was 1,181,600 barrels, an increase of 4,450. California production was 665,000 barrels, an increase of 35,000.

The imports of petroleum (crude and refined oils) for the week ending March 24, totalled 1,450,000 barrels, compared with 2,160,000 for the week ending March 17. LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFT

By S. W. STRAUS,
President American Society for Thrift.

S. W. STRAUS

TRUE thrift is a matter of correct proportions. It is the proper balancing of one's activities and accomplishments.

This question of proportion is one of the most important problems of life. It is worthy of the most thoughful attention from each individual as it applies to his daily life.

The man who works so hard that he ruins his health has an incorrect understanding of proportion. So also is he whose thoughts and attentions are ever alert to the passing pleasures of the moment. The miser is devoid of a normal understanding of proportion. The same is true of the man whose ambition for wealth or power lead him to trangress the rights of others and the limitations of the law.

There are those who allow their sense of proportion to be warped by some passing grievance or fancy. Vanity, avarice and selfishness each plays its part.

Herein lies a splendid field for self-improvement. Analyse your attitudes and your actions. Perhaps you are giving too much thought to some particular phase of life. Perhaps you are placing undue weight upon matters that are of inconsequential importance and are for this reason neglecting the things that count—the things that mean your success, progress, usefulness and substantial happiness.

Thrift is by no means the accumulation of money alone. It is just as truly an exemplification of rightful proportions. For when this exists we become stablized, well-poised and efficient.

"The Voice From the Minaret," Norma Talmadge's latest picture for First National release, which is now being shown at the T. D. & L. theater, is noteworthy for its unique variety of settings. The story, from the pen of Robert Hichens, covers considerable ground, and Director Frank Lloyd was compelled to reproduce far-off scenes on the studio lot in Los Angeles.

The story opens in Bombay, India; proceeds through the Suez canal to Port Said; then to Damascus, back to Bombay, from there to London and finally has finis written to its exotic pages in Damascus again.

Eugene O'Brien heads the supporting cast in this production.

"SHRIEK OF ARABY" IS SENSATION AT GLENDALE

That good should come from him for whom good has been done often happens. To be sure, it happens in "The Shriek of Araby," the latest Mack Sennett comedy feature, an Allied Producers and Distributors Corporation release, closing at the Glendale theater tonight The good comes to Ben Turpin who with Kathryn McGuire, is given the featured role in this production.

Turpin practices the Golden Rule—"Do unto others as you would they should do unto you."

All of which goes to prove, said Ben Turpin, that you should always carry your umbrella, as you never know what time you might get home at night.

PRESBYTERIANS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Enthusiastic Support Is Given the Officers and Reports

The annual congregational business meeting of the Glendale Presbyterian church was held at the church Wednesday evening. The meeting was largely attended and was a most enthusiastic gathering. Reports were heard from the officers of all organizations and in all these only the optimistic found expression, This is the twelfth year of the pastorate of Rev. Edmonds and he stated that this is the best annual meeting during all that period. This is probably the last meeting to be held in the present church edifice and the entire congregation are looking forward most enthusiastically to taking up the work in the new building at Louise and Harvard streets, which will be completed during the present year.

Rev. W. E. Edmonds was chosen as presiding officer last evening and Miss Louise M. Guenther as clerk. All reports showed numerical and financial gains. The Sunday school, which labors under most cramping and inadequate equipment, shows a total enrollment of 1109, including the cradle roll and home departments. The membership of the church shows a net gain of 211 over last year with the total nearing the 1200 mark. The current expense totalled over $15,000 and benevolence more than $10,000. The congregation has now assumed full support of Miss Jennie Horsch, one of our Glendale girls, who is a missionary among the Mexicans. The entire amount raised locally, exclusive of new building fund, was over $30,000.

The following officers were chosen for the coming year: Trustees, T. W. Preston, J. M. Fife, W. S. Perrin, C. E. Boss, J. B. McClellan and Al L. Baird. Deacons, W. E. McCormick, S. A. Forrester, R. T. Lyans, J. K. Gilkerson, F. A. Buck, F. G. Taylor and John Swearingen. Elders, W. J. Glendenin, G. G. Lemon, J. A. Newton, H. L. Brown, R. C. Kelley, D. R. Boyd, David Black, A. B. Clapp, and Asa Hall.

The executive secretary of the new building, George D. McDill, made an extended report of the finances and progress of the new building. Brief talks were made by Rev. Edmonds and Rev. Tinning. When the meeting closed many expressions of satisfaction were heard with reference to past progress and the promising outlook for the coming months.

A group of Glendale friends who are spending several days at Catalina Island includes Mrs. F. H. Vesper, Mrs. Earl Naudain, Miss Lois Naudain, Mrs. R. M. Brown, Miss Margaret Brown, Miss Sarah Chandler and Miss Florence McLaughlin.

"What a terrible thing it must be," said, "for a young woman to discover a love letter in the pocket of her husband's coat just after she has mended it neatly and lovingly!"

The woman smiled. "That could never happen," she said. "The woman would find the letter first—then she would not mend the coat."

HABITS IN THE MAKING

MAN is principally a creature of habit. Therefore, during the earlier, the more impressionable years of his life is the time to guide him in the formation of habits that will be of benefit to him in later life.

Nothing is more important in the raising of a family than adequate bathroom facilities. These facilities should be made easily available and so attractive that the use of them will be regarded as a daily pleasure, rather than a duty.

"Cleanliness is next to Godliness." If properly raised, one loves to be clean, and to be clean of body is to be clean of mind.

Liberal expenditures for high-grade attractive plumbing facilities in your home is the best investment in the world, and considering its moral influence; its health insurance; its longevity, the most economical.

'DO IT BETTER'

By H. ADDINGTON BRUCE

Author of "The Riddle of Personality," "Self-Development," Etc.

(Copyright, 1923, by The Associated Newspapers)

Of all slogans, the young man beginning business will do well to make his own, none is of more importance to him than that comprised in the three words: "Do it better." For that matter, it is a slogan of persisting importance to all business workers at all stages of their careers.

Neglect to act in accordance with it means failure even when success has seemingly been achieved.

How often it happens that men, having notably progressed through steadfast devotion to the principle summed up in this slogan, finally reach a point where they think they may safely spare themselves the effort adhesion to it involves. They have "arrived," they tell themselves, and now they can take things easy.

Always they discover, soon or late, that to "take things easy" means to lose ground in a business sense. This if only because in every business there always are competing workers for whom the slogan "Do it better" has an irresistible appeal.

Responding to it, they are certain in time to draw up on even terms with any who have "arrived" ahead of them. They are equally certain, merely by continuing to do better whatever they undertake, to pass the latter if these surrender to the "take it easy" impulse.

This is the explanation of many an unexpected collapse of industrial and commercial firms thought to be securely entrenched in the business world. It is the explanation, too, of the frequent demotion of business executives from positions they had toilsomely gained.

"Do it better" had won their successive promotions. A foolish belief that they could now dispense with "Do it better" had caused the setbacks which shocked them and their friends.

And, obviously, one need not look beyond an ignoring of "Do it better" to account for the failure of many business workers ever to "arrive."

One has only to use one's eyes to perceive that to many men "Take it easy" always has had a stronger appeal than "Do it better." Content to master the routine of their work—nay, lacking in ambition even to master that—their thoughts and their efforts are concentrated on almost anything except work improvement.

Naturally they are hopelessly handicapped in the competition of business. They are so handicapped as to be outdistanced by men perhaps conspicuously their inferiors in point of inborn talent, but more imbued than they with the "Do it better" idea.

So they lag behind, resignedly, wonderingly, perhaps despairingly. From their ranks are recruited the great army of restless, the discontented and the aggrieved. And the misery which really is self-imposed on them, though they do not appreciate this, gives added emphasis indeed to the "Do it better" slogan as one which no worker can possibly afford to ignore.

But, of course, it is not enough for a worker to resolve that "from day to day in every way" he will do his work "better and better." He must understand how to give effect to this good resolution. Concerning which I will have more to say later.

She was a very self-willed little girl and a teacher at her school asked in despair: "Rose, would you mind telling whether you ever do what you're told?"

The maid gave the question her serious attention for a moment and then replied that she was not sure.

"But," she added with the cheerful air of one offering an excellent substitute, "I nearly always do what I want."

A train was just starting from a station in England when an old woman hurried on to the platform and scrambled into a first-class carriage. A porter, however, thinking she looked more like a third-class passenger, opened the door.

"Missus," he bawled, "are you first-class?"

The old lady was bewildered for a moment. Then beaming upon her interrogator, she answered, "Thank ye, how's yersel'?"

SANITARY DRIVE IS APPRECIATED IN SO. CALIF.

Newspapers and trade publications throughout the country are commenting favorably upon the progressive step taken by the plumbing industry of Southern California in launching the great educational campaign now being conducted by the Sanitary Development league.

The campaign is compared to those of the great national industrial concerns and corporations and it is stated that a new era has arrived with the growth of this institutional advertising.

The railroads, telegraph and telephone companies, packing houses, fruit growers and others are engaged in similar campaigns, it is pointed out. The expenditures on newspaper and magazine space run into millions of dollars.

It is the good will of the public that is being sought—a closer bond of relationship and a greater understanding, according to an eastern publication. John Hukum, member of the publicity committee of the Sanitary Development league of Southern California, says:

"While that comment is true, we go beyond the mere desire to establish a closer relationship between the buying public and the plumbers. We are endeavoring to instill high ideals, to implant a demand for better materials, for we believe that if Southern California is to build upon a lasting and substantial foundation the best in materials must be installed. Therefore, we advocate buying the best from reliable dealers—those enrolled in our league which imposes upon members the obligation to deal fairly with the public and to stand behind their work. There are nearly 300 of the leading plumbing concerns in Southern California holding membership."

OHIO WILL STRIVE TO MAKE CHILDREN ENJOY MUSIC

COLUMBUS, O., March 28.—movement, the primary object of which is to educate the public in appreciation of good music, and which the sponsors believe will ultimately sound the death knell to the popularity of jazz, has been started by the department of education of Ohio, in the form of a music memory contest.

A committee, composed of the leading musical men and women of Ohio chosen by Vernon L. Riegel, state director of education, and Mrs. Nellie I. Sharp, state music supervisor, has made 20 selections of musical numbers, nine of which are from American composers. In the first section of the contest this list has been given to every school in the state, where children in all grades from the fifth to the e in the country schools will attempt to learn them so well that they can tell instantly which selection is being played, even though only a few bars are executed.

An additional 10 selections are added to this list in the second section of the contest for pupils in elementary schools of villages and cities, while an additional 10 is added, making a list of 40 selections, for high school pupils.

These selections are being played in all the schools, theatres, moving picture houses and concerts in the state, and reports to Director Riegel and Mrs. Sharp indicate that hundreds of thousands of school children have entered the contests.

Elimination contests are to be held in each school in the state during the week of April 2 and five pupils from each school will win the honor of representing that unit in the county contests of April 21. At these county contests three pupils in each section, making nine to a county, will be declared winners, and their victory will carry with it the right to represent that county in the state contest to be held here on April 28. Thus more than 600 county winners will try for the supreme honor.

The martens are as docile as domestic cats, and their skins are valuable.

It is only within comparatively recent years that Easter has become so universally celebrated in this country. For long it was regarded as exclusively a religious festival and was observed chiefly by two or three of the Christian denominations. Gradually the beauty and significance of the day won its way into the popular heart, and the custom of sending flowers, not only to the churches, but also to one's friends, was started.

An Easter feast should be pleasing to the eye as well as appetizing. The table decorations should be as spring-like as possible. Housewives who live in a large city will have no trouble in providing gay tulips, dainty hyacinths, bright daffodils to make beautiful their tables. Those who live far from florists may have lovely crocus or hyacinth blossoms, if they have been forehanded enough to plant the bulbs in a flowerpot and put in a sunny window. Many women who love flowers shrink from house plants, which they say, 'make such a mess.' If they would invest in shallow enameled ware pans, which can not rust through, to sand their flowerpots in, they would find that objection completely obviated.

What the turkey is to Thanksgiving, what the goose is to Christmas, that is lamb to Easter. In fact, to be strictly orthodox, one should have a lamb roasted whole and stuffed with pistachio nuts! That, however, is rather a big order for on average American family, so that a hindquarter of a lamb may be taken as a satisfactory compromise.

Begin the dinner with green pea bisque. This is very good and its pretty color suggests the season. Heat the milk for the bisque in a double-boiler. Heat slightly a can of green peas, mash them through an enameled ware colander and add to the milk. Season to taste and stir until the bisque is thick enough. Serve in cups.

Lamb is always an expensive meat in these days, but especially so early in the season. Fortunate, therefore, is the housewife who has an enameled ware roaster which will insure the success of this costly dish. These roasters are self-basting, having a tight fitting cover, and yet there is not the slightest danger that the meat will become steamed. Lamb, unlike mutton, should not be cooked too much. Indeed, it should be very slightly rare.

With the lamb, of course, goes the traditional mint sauce. In these days mint jelly is often preferred, but the sauce made with fresh mint will always hold first place. In a small enameled ware saucepan which will not be affected by acid, put about a cup of water, either the juice of a lemon, or a tablespoonful of vinegar. Add two tablespoonfuls of sugar and let it come to a boil. Skim and then add a cupful of mint leaves cut up fine. Let all cook together until the mint is soft and tender. Set outside and keep hot until wanted.

Most delicious of all vegetables with spring lamb is asparagus. This now comes from so many directions that it is almost always possible to have it fresh—if you are willing to pay the price. There comes in enameled ware a very convenient little oblong kettle with a removable tray which is exactly the thing for cooking asparagus as the stalks can be laid on the tray and cooked perfectly without being broken. Riced potatoes are very good with such a dinner. They are easily prepared by rubbing well boiled potatoes through a colander.

Nothing suggests spring more than dandelions. Those bright yellow, little flowers make us feel that warm weather is really at hand. Dandelions gathered out-of-doors and served like spinach have been used for many years, but it is only recently that dandelions for salad have been raised in hot houses. These forced dandelions are much more delicate in flavor than their out-of-doors relatives and make a delightful salad. So have a dandelion salad with a French dressing.

A delicious and at the same time very easily prepared dessert is a pineapple mousse. Get a can of grated pineapple. Take the label off the can and pack the can in the ice cream freezer. It should be left there about four hours, more will not hurt. To serve, open the can with a can opener and put the mousse on a platter. Serve some simple cake with the ice.

With this dinner olives both ripe and green may be served, also nuts. If candies are added they should be of very light kinds, such as cream peppermints. The more substantial sweets, such as chocolates, belong to the winter menu.

A hostess to whom lamb as a chief dish does not appeal will do well to select roast chicken. The menu for this dinner is given in connection with this article.

The third dinner suggested is intended for the busy housewife who has little extra time for elaboration and who, though she loves to entertain her friends, finds her heart larger than her pocketbook. While this is a very nice dinner it is an inexpensive one, and it is easy because the greater part of it can be prepared the day before.

A corn bisque will make a good beginning. Open a can of corn and pour off all the liquid into an enameled ware double-boiler; add enough milk to make the required amount of bisque. Thicken very slightly, salt to taste. Add just a dash of cayenne or paprika before serving in cups.

While the statement made in regard to lamb that it is a very expensive meat is true, it is also a fact that some cuts of lamb are very much cheaper than others. A forquarter, or shoulder of lamb is quite reasonable. Get the butcher to cut the amount of lamb needed into small pieces suitable for stewing. The day before Easter put this lamb into a saucepan with only just enough cold water to keep it from scorching. Cover lightly and cook slowly. When about half done, add two or three onions sliced and cook together. On the day of the dinner, put this stewed lamb into an enameled ware deep pudding dish, cover with a plain pastry and you will have a lamb pie which everyone will like. Serve in the dish in which it is baked.

Canned green pease go very well with this dish. Serve the potatoes mashed. For salad arrange on separate plates leaves of lettuce and on these place slices of the white Bermuda onions; to each plate add three or four little red radishes tucked among the lettuce leaves. A boiled salad dressing which should be prepared the day before will be very good with this appetizing salad.

For desert make a gelatin lemon jelly, but vary it by adding a little of the green mint flavoring and coloring which comes for mint jelly. The jelly molds in enameled ware are most convenient. They can not break, as the crockery ones sometimes do, and they will not darken the most delicate colors, so it is quite safe to make this dessert a day ahead.

Never did the world need, more than at the present time, to take to heart the great lessons of Easter and we may all trust that this Easter will bring the longed for real peace to all nations and all peoples.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for 'Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully

LITTLE AMERICANS

Dr. Hamilton Holt characterizes as "Little Americans" the men who advocate the policy of isolation for the United States. No term could have been more happily chosen. They seem small, for they are fearful of responsibilities, fearful of having this powerful government do its part of the world's work. They would withhold support from a tribunal designed to deal with international questions. Yet they want all such questions in any manner affecting their interests to be decided in their own favor. It is strange they expect the rest of the nations to feel an acute concern for them when they flaunt on their standard a sentiment that could be freely translated thus: "Mind your business, which is none of ours, and we'll mind our business, which is none of yours."

The votes of the people of the United States did seem to favor such a policy, but that the vote sustained the law of exclusiveness and aloofness, was a mere incident. The voters did not have this subject in mind. They were voting for a change of administration. It was almost an advance certainty that they were to do so. There was dissatisfaction over the business of war. Already hints of scandal touching great contracts were afloat. Crudely stated, the slogan of the moment was the ancient one "Turn the rascals out!" Yet it was less an aspersion upon individuals than the expression of desire for change. It is fair to say there was not a wide understanding as to the League of Nations. It was rejected, not on its merits, but because a party change had become inevitable.

Little Americans indeed, appear the members of a coterie that seeks to keep the United States distinct from the civilization of which it really is an important part.

THE OBTUSE MATURE

Admiral Sims in his address to university students at Berkeley said that democracy is on trial for its life, and that the task of educated youth is to save it. He placed emphasis on the necessity for personal initiative, holding that without this quality, education was of negative value. He was addressing himself to the youth, and he said "It is of no use talking to grown-ups. Their minds already are crystalized." Which was to say that they had become set in their ways, that they were averse to the disturbing presence of new ideas; in other words, that they were hopelessly conservative. It hardly will be denied that he was right. The future must depend upon the youth of today. It is but fair to ask the older generation to give them a chance; not to scoff at untried novelties, or pronounce anything impossible simply because it has not been tried.

This does not imply that age is not to be sought for counsel. The belief that the gray hair is the root of wisdom, has not vanished. Admiral Sims, retired from naval service by reason of his years, has a mind bright and alert. It is bright and alert enough to perceive the truth, and to express it well. The youngsters may seem to have too much of the trait described sometimes as "freshness." This possibly is only the sign of their efforts to lay hold upon affairs, to shape their careers. They are dissatisfied with existing standards. Well, tomorrow is coming, and with it new standards. The mature might as well accept the inevitable with a smile. Youth is marching on, an intelligent and ambitious army.

THE FIGHT ON NARCOTICS

That the authorities are determined to crush out the traffic in illicit drugs is evidenced by numerous arrests, and by the increasing severity of sentences given the convicted. It is believed that now one of the greatest of the "dope rings" has been broken up. Unfortunately the man known as the brains of the organization escaped, but it is only a question of time when the law shall get him. There is an aroused public sentiment that would not be satisfied otherwise. It is said that this ring did business on such a huge scale that it declined to accept the patronage of any person not ready to buy a minimum of $4000 worth of the particular poison he favored.

The drug habit is far more difficult to explain than the liquor habit. The end of it is absolute ruin. Every addict knows this, and with few exceptions, the individuals who become addicts know in advance the fate that awaits them. Yet they begin the practice, and soon it has conquered them body and soul. Whether a complete cure is possible in any case is not certain, but at least there is the possibility of checking the dealing in illicit drugs so that a supply shall not be accessible. This involves the awakening of the entire public to the peril. Part of the plan of the dope peddlers is to create the appetites to which they pander. It therefore becomes necessary to apprehend and restrain them. The evil, however, goes deeper. The supply of illicit drugs at present seems to be unlimited. Until the source is found and the manufacturers brought to book, it is not reasonable to assume that the great evil can be eliminated by catching and punishing the smaller fry.

Recently a driver in avoiding a dog, upset his car, injuring the passengers and the machine. He followed a natural impulse, for nobody wants to run over a dog, even if the latter is a canine moron striving to commit suicide. Yet the act does seem to confuse the sense of values.

Possibly nothing sillier is sent by cable than the gossip concerning the domestic affairs of the former kaiser. The intimation that he has become a henpecked dotard who takes orders from his wife as though she were matron of a reform school and he an inmate, is nothing less than absurd.

FATE OF THE BOOTLEGGER

Damon Runyon, a newspaper writer of distinction, says that after reading of the pains and penalties of the young men who drink bootleg liquor, he wonders what becomes of the bootlegger. There are several answers to be made to his query.

Out this way in pursuit of their nefarious calling, a number of the active figures in the business have been killed. This seldom occurs through the rashness of drinking their own wares. They are too wise. But they succumb to the perils of the sea as they endeavor to smuggle the stuff in. They are shot by officers, who by this method meet the objections of the bootlegger to being captured. The jails fairly bulge with them. Some have been sent to the penitentiary, and others merely wait information as to how long they are to be inmates of that institution. A few have been murdered by their associates, apparently by reason of clashing of judgments concerning the division of spoils. Doubtless part of the gangs operating along the coast have found the traffic profitable. Others, far from this, have observed most reluctantly large consignments of liquor rippling merrily down the gutter, or seized by the government, while the vehicles or craft used to convey it to the spot of capture, have been confiscated , and heavy fines imposed.

Other things quite untoward, from the standpoint of the bootlegger, have happened elsewhere. In one state two of the ilk have been sentenced to be hanged because of the killing of prohibition agents.

In a general way it may be said that the bootlegger is losing favor. Former patrons fall away because of finding out that they had been dealing with thieves and bribers and assassins. They became disgusted before that through ascertaining that the liquor purveyed usually was bogus and deadly. Mr. Runyon's implied belief that the bootlegger is going safely on his way, quite undisturbed, leaving a trail of victims, is based on an imperfect knowledge of facts.

A man is never his own worst enemy as long as he can keep his temper.

'Sparing the Rod' Reflections

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

One of the judges in an eastern juvenile court is blithe to revive the strap as a means of discipline. As illustrating the need of the rod his honor cited the case of a 14-year-old boy whose father brought him into court saying he had never been whipped and that he was incorrigible.

Estelle Lawton Lindsey

The judge had the lad thrashed with the general idea of reducing his "smart aleck" attitude toward life, and was vastly gratified by the thought of what the discipline would accomplish.

Says this judge: "The wise and experienced parent knows that with some children nothing is so conducive to good conduct as a little laying on of hands."

Rot.

If one confuses the comfort of parents with good conduct, the statement of his honor is true.

But no parent is wise, no matter how experienced, if he allows a son to grow from infancy to a youth of 14 and the boy is unmanageable all the time. An incorrigible child connotes a parent who is either stupid, apathetic or wholly unresourceful. And, if a parent is all that, he has no right to beat a child because he is unable to lead him by better methods.

Children are like the grownups with whom they associate and from whom they copy their conduct patterns. If beating is good for bad children it is good for bad adults, wife beaters for example. Will the honorable jurist concede that a man who is unruly, anti-social, dishonest, vile tempered, tyrannical and otherwise objectionable should be trussed up and beaten into submission? You bet he will not.

The purpose of discipline as conceived by enlightened people is to teach folk how to be self-directing. Now if a child is directed by violence what is to guide him when the violence no longer impends?

Here is a story I'd like to give the honorable judge who advocates thrashing children. Once upon a time there was a father who decided to thrash his son. He objected to the lad's methods of conducting himself. But the boy was stronger than the father and in the fight which ensued it was dad who got the licking.

Will dad be a better man because of it? If not, why not?

Beating children is always confession of weakness.

Norah C. The commas are not essential and could be omitted. You should have written, " . . . I should greatly appreciate . . . "

THE LISTENING POST

By James W. Foley

JAMES W. FOLEY

There is only one individual in the world I can exactly control and direct.

Only one individual to who my aye is aye and my nay is nay if I will.

Only one individual who will do my work as I demand it to be done.

Only one individual who will obey my slightest word.

* * *

There is only one individual I am surely able to change for good or ill.

Only one individual who will go or stop as I tell him.

Only one individual who I am sure will be on time if I insist.

Only one individual whom I can lift and improve and make to serve as I will.

* * *

I can advise with you.

I can talk with you and urge you and plead with you.

But I cannot be sure you will heed me or obey me or serve me.

Because you are you and you are the master of your own actions.

* * *

You may be in my employ, but even then I cannot control you.

Because it is within your power to quit if you wish.

I may give you the best advice in the world.

But it is yours to heed it or not as you choose.

There is no way I can surely exercise any power or authority or control over you.

* * *

So strong as I may be I cannot lift you and hold you up.

I may lift you, but at your will you may let yourself down again when I am not by.

And earnest as I am I cannot convince you if you do not choose to be convinced.

For your convictions are your own and not mine.

* * *

I cannot compel you to labor.

I cannot compel you to rest.

I cannot compel you to work or to play.

I cannot compel you to arise early or go to bed early.

Indeed, there is nothing of you that I can command.

* * *

So I cannot make you better.

I cannot change your ways.

I cannot choose for you and know you will accept the choice.

You may and you may not.

It is all a matter of uncertainty.

* * *

But there is one individual I can make obey.

There is one individual I can make work.

There is one individual I can make choose as I will.

There is one individual I can make better.

There is one individual I can lift up and make stay lifted up.

* * *

And this individual is not a slave of mine.

Not a brother of mine.

Not a child of mine.

Not a hireling of mine.

Not an employe of mine.

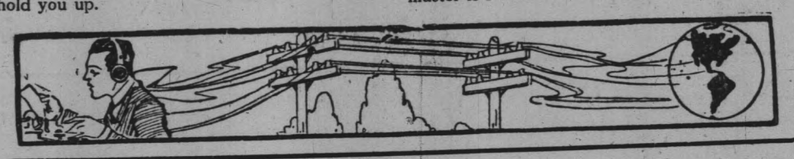
Not someone who is under financial obligation to me.

* * *

The individual is myself.

I am the only individual I can make do as I choose.

I am the only spirit of which I am absolute master if I will.



Songs of the Poets

Song—By Florence Earle Coates

For me the jasmine buds unfold
And silver daisies star the lea,
The crocus hoards the sunset gold,
And the wild rose breathes for me.
I feel the sap through the bough returning,
I share the skylark's transport fine,
I know the fountain's wayward yearning;
I love, and the world is mine.

I love, and thoughts that sometimes grieved,
Still well remembered, grieve not me;
From all that darkened and deceived
Upsoars my spirit free.
For soft the hours repeat one story,
Sings the sea one strain divine,
My clouds arise all flushed with glory;
I love, and the world is mine!

'PEER GYNT'—UNMITIGATED FANCY

By DR. FRANK CRANE

EVERY once in a while when you go to the theater you get something. I mean something that sticks to the ribs.

It is that something which you carry away, that something which lingers with you, which, after all, is the net result, product and usufruct of any play you see, book you read, lecture you hear, or man you meet.

The other day I had rather an extraordinary experience. I went to see Ibsen's "Peer Gynt" as produced by the Theater Guild, with young Schildkraut in the title role.

What was unique in the experience was that I had never read the play nor witnessed it before, although I had heard of it all my life. It was just one of those things I had omitted. Therefore I had the unusual experience of getting a brand-new, fresh, and virgin impression, although I am a thousand years old, more or less. To come across that sort of thing after you have passed your twenties is remarkable and youth-giving.

I found "Peer Gynt" to be a play deficient in about everything that anybody ever thought a play ought to contain. It had practically no story, little action, not much love motif, and no shooting.

There was also no particular uplift, only one barelegged dance, and the philosophizing was quite by the way.

It was, in fine, just unmitigated fancy. The author seemed to be indulging in an excursion of the soul.

The impressions were as desultory as life itself—a little merry-making, a little of the horrible and grotesque, a little youth, a little old age, a little sensuality, a little moralizing—and yet somehow or other the whole thing was strangely alive.

I do not know why, but ever since I have seen this play the distant landscape round about my spirit has been a little plainer. The mists have raised a little on the horizon. And I see standing in the distance as sentinels of my destiny the great and silent sphinx, the horrid mountains and the vasty sea.

And those trolls! Everybody's soul has trolls down in the caverns—twisted, unnatural, beastly, devilish figures. Perhaps we do not glimpse them very often and hasten to forget them. But they are there.

And then the play had its climax in old age and death. It was not an episode. It was life itself. Not my life, nor yours, but that strange, possible life that is to all of us.

Not the least part of the impression created by the play is the incidental music written for it by Grieg. This much I had heard many times from orchestras and pianos. Now I was hearing it where it belongs. It was a jagged, jigsaw sensation that had long been floating in my consciousness and now had found its proper place in the picture.

Was ever music more subtly appropriate! It is as vague and whimsy and unearthly as Ibsen's words themselves.

We have all thought quite often of the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde in us. There is also a Peer Gynt in us; in each of us; in each of us a dreaming, striving, posing, lying, seeking, baffled other self.

I must add to the population of my soul Ibsen's Peer Gynt to take his place along with Barrie's McConnachie, Stevenson's Mr. Hyde, and one or two vigorous angels of my own that have always succeeded in keeping their place.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

MID-WEEK PRAYER MEETINGS

[Omaha Bee]

What, we make bold to ask, has become of the good, old-fashioned mid-week prayer meeting?

In those long gone days when the mid-week prayer meeting was an institution in every village, hamlet and town, there were theological discussions aplenty, but they were upon the Book of Books, not upon the ipse dixit of fallible man. Creeds and dogmas formulated in the fertile brains of men had little place in those prayer meetings, but the fervent expressions of faith in every "thus sayeth the Lord" were an inspiration to better living and cleaner thinking. The mid-week prayer meetings did not draw like the spectacular gyrations of professional revivalists, but every one of them was a fairly close census of the real, every day, honest-to-goodness Christians of the community.

In those days, when the prayer meeting was a village institution, there were few revivalists of the Billy Sunday order, but there were real Fathers in Israel whose appeals were to the minds and hearts of men, not to their surface emotions. Fervid preachers of the Gospel, these old-time revivalists searched the hearts of men; they scorned the little sermonettes smothered in concerts, and knew nothing of the arts of the press agents of salvation heralding forth the tremendous soul-saving power of their spectacular and athletic employers. Theirs not the Gospel words set to jazzy tunes, but those rousing old songs of Zion that in themselves held a heart appeal beyond human words to describe.

Men and women knew their Bibles in the old days when the mid-week prayer meeting flourished, and with knowledge came understanding, and with understanding came that abiding faith that was not to be shaken by the petty bickerings of church dignitaries nor the thunderings of pulpit orators.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

Lady Bonham Carter is not in the least to be blamed for being the daughter of Margot Asquith. Nor, being the daughter of that greatly unloved woman, is she to be blamed for possessing certain emotions that drive her to write. Another, conscious of stress, might be driven to drink, or profanity. Not so Lady Bonham Carter.

HENRY JAMES.

Margot's daughter, it appears, has been in the Ruhr. There she was made very unhappy by the presence of French forces. She could see with half an eye that the Germans had not welcomed the French, and were not seeking to make their stay pleasant. It irked her greatly to observe that the invaders had adopted harsh measures to insure a moderate degree of safety for themselves. It had been forbidden to kill the French, and some precautions had been taken to see to the carrying out of this drastic restriction.

Surely the young woman's memory must go back to the time when Germany was the invader and France or Belgium the invaded. If so it does not recall that the measures in vogue were over-gentie. Compared with those measures, anything yet prescribed by the French is but the expression of brotherly love. Margot's daughter did not see civilians, men, women and children lined up and shot? No. Let her brush up on very recent history, and dry her tears, for her own happiness, and dry her ink for the happiness of a multitude.

The estranged husband of a movie actress is said to have written a novel in which he portrays, of course with delicacy and tact, the course by which his matrimonial bark struck a snag.

To get by the novel will have to be intrinsically worthy as a bit of literature. As disguised autobiography there will be no demand for it. In fact, when the public clamors for details of a divorce, it wants its facts raw, and the real names of co-respondents.

The winner swallowed thirty-one eggs, doubtless fresh, else he must have faltered and failed, and took with them other modest viands. Unhappily the news goes no further than to the moment of adjournment. The winner was alive at that time, but it is natural to hope for the best.

There is considerable nonsense written about the manner in which President Harding showed his democracy while in Florida. He mingled with his fellow citizens, and appeared to regard them as human.

Mr. Harding was an editor long before he was President. He sat in his room in his shirt sleeves and wrote pieces for the paper. Of course, he showed his democrary, just by acting as himself.

A Philadelphian, who is a banker, and known as a figure in society, is held in jail on a charge of murder, having run down and killed three people. The allegation is made that he was driving while drunk. He is said not to have stopped after the deadly assault on the crowd.

This will be an excellent opportunity to test the potency of the pull that money sometimes is supposed to have.

WATCHING THE PARADE

BY JOHN DILGRIM

I do not mind being candid with strangers. Being wholly open-minded to acquaintances does not bother me a great deal. But I detest being firm with a friend. If Mrs. Darden-Nicholls had given me even a small hole to sneak through I would have sneaked. She didn't.

"Listen," I said, fretfully, having recently yielded to the prevalent habit of prefacing every sentence with a "listen," as though I were a railroad crossing post. "Listen. Where do you get that stuff, anyhow? What makes you think we want to meet 'em?"

Mrs. Darden-Nicholls was mentally wrecked. She gobbled and choked.

"Why—why—why," she said. "I thought, of course, you'd want to meet them. I was so sure you would both be pleased——"

"Neither of us would be," I said, snortily. "And next time you feel yourself yielding to an impulse to do something nice for some one, you go and have yourself locked up. Because the chances are you'll gum the cards."

She is of those well-intentioned persons who come so near making this world unlivable for the rest of us. She bubbles with helpful desires. She means so well. She had just planned an evening in which Mrs. Pilgrim and her Tut-ankh-Amen would be set vis-a-vis to a pair of old friends we bitterly hate nowadays. They hate us, too.

It isn't as simple to be a little sunbeam in this world of sin as it might seem. A good deal of the social ice has airholes in it, through which the unwary sunbeam breaks through. Never mind the mixed metaphor.

Many an evening that should have been pleasant has been wrecked because some one meant well.

DO YOU KNOW THAT—?

KIWANIANS TO HAVE DINNER

Burbank Club Plans for Meeting on April Eleventh

Burbank Kiwanians are looking forward to a dinner, April 11, according to the announcement at the noon-day luncheon Wednesday at the Good Fellows' building. District governor, William R. Brown of San Francisco, will be present. His talk will be on "Kiwanis Principles, and Future Goals."

Judge Summerfield of Los Angeles, was present at the mid-day luncheon Wednesday noon. His subject was Domestic Relations. He selected the general conditions of marriage laws and made a plea for uniform divorce laws.

The judge recommended that a law be passed requiring all who desired a license to file an application 15 days before receiving it. This will be a slight improvement on present-day laws in several ways, chiefly it will protect the young run-away child, for it will give the parents 15 days notice of the proposed marriage.

The Kiwanis club passed resolutions which will be forwarded to the state legislature asking that it be made mandatory upon parents to support their children. The law will bring back any parent who leaves the state in order to avoid supporting the children.

Leslie Taylor, of Lankershim, was present to urge that Burbank form a baseball club, and join a valley league in which there will be six teams—one from Owensmouth, San Fernando, Glendale, Lankershim, Burbank and Van Nuys.

Dr. Van Deventer presented the attendance prize, and Charles Hough was the recipient.

At the evening services at the Methodist church the subject for this evening will be "Christ in Gethsemane and Christ Before Pilate." The topic for the Friday evening meeting will be "The Crucifixion of Christ."

Before the films are shown, there will be a short song service, with special music by soloists and the orchestra. Tonight Mrs. Atwater and Mrs. Nielson will sing.

THIRD STREET TO BE OPENED

Burbank City Council Approves Assessment District

At the meeting of the city council Tuesday evening the trustees voted to pass a resolution to oppose the passage of certain bills which are before the state legislature concerning the prohibiting of cities from passing any license ordinances or fees. City Clerk Webster will send the resolutions to the representatives of Burbank in the state legislature, F. C. Weller of Glendale and J. B. Johnson.

F. C. Miller, acting secretary of the city planning commission, asked for it that a district be formed for assessment of the improvement of Third street.

The trustees passed resolution No. 258 that such an assessment be made. Resolution 259 was passed to lay a water main down Olive avenue and on Pass avenue. This will carry the pipes to the west city limits.

Appointment of J. H. Long as deputy marshal to take the place of Officer Kyle who resigned to go into the truck business, was approved by the board.

An ordinance (198) establishing the grade of Clarke avenue was read for the first time and passed for the second reading. Ordinance (199) establishing the grade of Verdugo avenue south of Olive avenue passed to its second reading.

Maps of tracts 6492, 6496 and 5497 were approved.

Richard Hill was appointed as chief street inspector.

The party returned for an elaborate feast at the Alpert home and games and dancing were enjoyed afterwards.

ASSOCIATED GASOLINE — MORE MILES TO THE GALLON

You save three ways

1 saves your money
Associated Gasoline delivers "more miles to the gallon."

2 saves your engine
Associated Gasoline prevents dilution of crank case oil.

3 saves your battery
Associated Gasoline gives a quick, snappy start in any weather.

Every drop of Associated Gasoline is consumed in the combustion chambers—this means that it is all converted to power. Gasoline that leaks into the crank case does more than lose power—it contaminates the lubricating oil. Analysis of crank case oil often shows 25% raw gasoline. Avoid this trouble by using Associated Gasoline—and Cycol Motor Oil.

Look for the Associated sign shown by good garages and service stations.

HOW OVERPAYMENT OF TAXES MAY BE ADJUSTED

Three ways in which reductions in internal revenue assessments and adjustments of overpayment of taxes may be accomplished were outlined in instructions received yesterday from Washington by Collector Rex Goodcell. The procedure includes refunds, credits and abatement of adjustments for taxpayers. Here are the three methods:

On the basis of an application submitted by a taxpayer on form 843, togeteher with appropriate supporting evidence to be filed with the collector of internal revenue of the district in which the tax s assessed.

On the basis of a certificate of over assessment prepared by the appropriate administrative unit in the bureau in each case in which an over-assessment of tax is disclosed through the audit of a return.

On the basis of a blanket claim, a schedule of taxes found to be uncollectible, or a schedule of duplicate payments and overpayments due to obvious error on all forms of taxable returns submitted by a collector of internal revenue.

In the case of over-assessment the taxpayer need not file a claim Proper adjustment will be made by the internal revenue bureau and notice thereof forwarded to the taxpayer. The five-year limit applies in all cases.

FIRPO HAS BIG CHANCE, SAYS FARRELL

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, March 29.—Where the path leads for Luis Firpo, the Argentine giant, depends largely on where Luis chooses to turn his steps.

Firpo has more natural fighting ability and he is the best prospect of any of the young heavyweights who have come to the front since Dempsey got his start.

Firpo has more natural fighting ability and he is the best prospect of any of the young heavyweights who have come to the front since Dempsey got his start.

Firpo has everything promising, but he has one of the Latin temperaments that may spoil what looks like sure fame and fortune for him.

Because some of his fellow countrymen in South America warned him to beware of scheming Americans, Firpo is suspicious of everyone. He looks upon all who approach him as connivers who are out to do him harm.

Even with Jimmy De Forest, who trained him for a few weeks when he first came to this country and who handled him in the Brennan fight, he is restrained and wary and it does not permit him to get the full value out of the excellent education that De Forest is capable of giving him.

As an example of the peculiar type of a pupil that Firpo is, De Forest tells the story that when he was working with him last year, one of Firpo's friends went to him and told him that De Forest was Dempsey's trainer and that Jimmy would teach him wrong, so that Dempsey could be at him. Firpo became suspicious and quit De Forest.

If he continues to suspect every one he will make the way harder, although it might not necessarily keep him from winning the title. De Forest is about the one trainer in the country who knows enough to make a great fighter out of the South American.

* * *

Nearly all o fthe veterans who have looked over the South American find in him a striking resemblance to Jim Jeffries when he first came out. Tex Rickard, who is one of the most enthusiastic boosters of Firpo, says that he really is another Jim and that he will be the next champion.

* * *

The most impressive things about Firpo are his ability to take punishment and his tremendous hitting power. He also has a great fighting heart—and little else is needed.

Firpo must learn to box a little, but that is only a minor detail. His left hand also needs attention, but that also can come with training.

* * *

It seems now that Dempsey has only two men as real contenders for the tile—Firpo and Harry Wills.

There's enough happiness wasted to supply the whole universe.

A DREAM OF VIOLETS

I'm looking for a violet,
I know it's here about;
I've looked for it beneath the trees
And wandered in and out;
I've thrust the grass and leaves aside,
I've searched with eager look,
I've looked for it the morning long
In every shady nook.

So dainty is the violet,
So dainty and so blue,
So modest, sweet and very shy,
I wanted it for you.
And all the morning long I sought,
I searched with tender care,
And yet, alas, I've found it not,
Though I looked everywhere.

And some one came to me just now,
And saw me sit and stare,
And what the thing he said to me
I do not know or care,
For I was far away from him,
I do not think he knew,
Just looking for a violet,
I wanted it for you.

And where I was the trees were tall,
And leaves were thick and made
Beneath the outstretched limbs of them
Great rugs of sun and shade.
The air was soft and warm and sweet,
I heard a bird there sing,
And cool and green beneath my feet
The yielding turf of Spring.

The clamor of the street was not,
The din and clang of car,
For while I looked I quite forgot
The rumble and the jar.
There was a whisper in the grass,
My soul was made anew,
And I looked for a violet,
I wanted it for you.

Albert was newly married and he arrived home one day to find a pie of immense length on the table.

"What's this, Ebba?" he asked.

"That's a rhubarb pie," replied Ebba proudly.

"And whatever have you made such a big one for?" he asked.

"Why," said Ebba in an aggrieved tone. "It's only as long as the rhubarb."

BRITISH COMMONS NOT UNPROFANED BY CLEVER KNAVES

LONDON, March 29.—All sorts of adventurers seem to be able to get into British politics and even to secure elections to parliament.

Trebitsch Lincoln, a German, won the affections of the Liberal party and represented a British constituency in the Commons just before the war. Horatio Bottomley, the most spectacular swindler England has produced for years, left the House of Commons last summer to serve a seven year term. George Augustus Jennings was not so fortunate. He polled six thousand votes as an independent candidate in the London constituency of North Paddington at the recent election. He made a false step during the campaign, however, and recently he was sentenced to serve four years at hard labor.

Every candidate for the House of Commons, as an evidence of good faith, is obliged to deposit the sum of 150 pounds with the election officers. This amount he forfeits if he fails to poll a certain small percentage of the votes cast. Jennings gave a check for this 150 pounds on a London bank. Although he was not elected, he received many more than the requisite number of votes. In the regular course of events his check would have been returned to him and all would have been well, but an unforeseen complication arose. Jennings had creditors who secured a court order restraining the election officials from returning the check, and established their claims to the money. When the check was sent to the bank by the officials it came back with the declaration that Jennings had no account there. It developed he had given other bogus checks to various people to meet his campaign expenses.

After the jury had returned its verdict of guilty, the police told the judge the story of Jennings' life. Under the practice of the English courts such evidence could not be introduced until the jury has passed upon a case, the idea being that testimony of past misdeeds would prejudice the jury against a prisoner. Jennings had served terms for similar other misdeeds in other parts of the United Kingdom, and for some years he had been a shining light in the upper stratum of London crookdom.

The Evening News thus describes the candidate: "He wore an eye glass. He wore the silk hat, the morning coat, the white spats of the blameless life. He arrived in the constituency in a Rolls-Royce motor car, and with a Rolls-Royce manner all his own."
